The screenshot shows a web configuration interface with two main sections:

- Disable apache mod security: A section with a green checkmark, radio buttons for 'Yes' and 'No', and a 'Save' button. A note below reads: "Some features could not work correctly with a specific configuration of apache mod security. We recommend to turn it off."
- Set shop URL: A section with a blue information banner that says: "Here you can set the URL for your shop. If you migrate your shop to a new URL, remember to change the values below." Below this banner are three input fields: "Shop domain" (containing "namadomain.com"), "SSL domain" (containing "namadomain.com"), and "Base URI" (containing "/"). These three fields are enclosed in a red rectangular box.
- Robots file generation: A section with a blue information banner that says: "Your robots.txt file MUST be in your website's root directory and nowhere else (e.g. http://www.yoursite.com/robots.txt). Generate your 'robots.txt' file by clicking on the following button (this will erase the old robots.txt file)". Below the banner is a "Generate robots.txt file" button.
